The aim of EBVs is to allow buyers to see how much of an animal's performance is due to its breeding (genetics) and how much has been influenced by the environment that they have been kept in – management, feeding, farm location, housing etc

An animal will pass on half of its genetic merit to its offspring.

e.g., if Ram A has a Scan Weight of +3.33 then his progeny at scanning will be over 1.5kg heavier than average

Lambing Worries?

The answer is simple.

PRE & POST LAMBING TUBBY

Encourages colostrum quality & quantity
Improves lamb growth and development

Supports lamb vigour
Providing the essential micro nutrients for the lamb to get up and go

Mucosal cell production
Producing mucous for wetter and easier lambings

If twin lamb is a problem on farm use the Twin Lamb Tubby. It contains 33% sugars as well as acetona and choline which work together to efficiently use body fat reserves and reduces risks against twin lamb disease whilst helping to maintain a healthy liver function.
